TERRAZZO COLLECTION

Material Recycling

From the 4 million tons of ceramic waste in Foshan to the world’ s largest stone processing base in Yunfu, Bentu pays close attention to the leftover stone aggregate came along with excessive development of human society and produces everyday furniture with useless but recyclabe materials.

Terrazzo Collection is one of the Bentu’ s vital experiments of materials. With the appropriate, contemporary and systematic design, we wish to depict a social state under the impactive trend of terrazzo.

Back and forth between processing technique and consumer demand, industrial reality and human sentiment, we keep exploring new possibilities of terrazzo. As a combination between cross-over material and furnishing products, Terrazzo Collection retains elaborate details while harmoniously fuses into modern architecture.

Nevertheless, what Bentu wants to do the most is to bring terrazzo, the most common material back then is now putting on its new look, back into contemporary society and public spaces, possessing highly commercial value and environmental significance.
