Sketch Chair

design by Wendy Liu & Alex Chai 2017

Sketch Chair is inspired by designer's sketch work, the cable which is neat and spiritual, connecting but not messy, therefore, the name "sketch" is the best interpretation of it. Turning the beauty of the lines from the 2D plane into the 3D space brings the interestingness to more people in the way as a furniture.

W465 D530 H840

Sketch

The whole Sketch Chair expresses its lines with round steel tubes. The surface and the legs can be disassembled. With the overall slender lines' bending and connecting, Sketch Chair realizes both the load-bearing and the design concept. with its static and simple.

Sketch chair with the elements of full lines which looks light and lively when it is in the space, using the bent lines to show the mildness, simpleness and elegance, applicable to home, work area, office, conference room and other environments.

Every Chair

design by Micky Wang & Alex Chai 2016

grado design group rethink the design of the chair and inject our new idea into the classic ones, incorporating a much modern idea to create a new chair named Every Chair.

Every Chair

Every chair is trying to express the minimalist aesthetics, at the same time, we try to reproduce the classical things with the advanced technology, accurate size, and color scheme. The design of the bending edge of the seats matched with the slim steel tube legs not only make the whole chair looks light in construction but also enhance its strength.

While maintaining the strength of the chair, we reduce the thickness of the chair as much as possible to emphasize the feature of the chair, lightness and beauty. And this unique chair would definitely lighten the space wherever it would be.

Why we named this chair Every Chair, as we keen, to design a chair which can be integrated almost a variety of environments, into everywhere, such as restaurant, cafe, office and waiting room. Three different colors and six different styles can be chosen.
